Book Details:

Review: I am in the medical world, and I am really enjoying reading this with my 10-year-old son. There is a great deal of medical history in the book that I have not thought about for many years. The description says for grades 5-7/10-12 years - I think it would be a hard read for most 10-year-olds. There are many proper names (not American, so hard to say)...

Description: Phineas Gage was truly a man with a hole in his head. Phineas, a railroad construction foreman, was blasting rock near Cavendish, Vermont, in 1848 when a thirteen-pound iron rod was shot through his brain. Miraculously, he survived to live another eleven years and become a textbook case in brain science. At the time, Phineas Gage seemed to completely...
